Review this information just before you enter the testing center, paying special attention to those areas where you feel you need the most review. You can transfer any of these facts from your head onto a blank sheet provided by the testing center. We also recommend reading the glossary as a last-minute cram tool before entering the testing center. Good luck.

Decelerations are abnormal findings on the fetal monitoring strip. Decelerations are classified as:

- Early decelerations—Begin prior to the peak of the contraction and end by the end of the contraction. They are caused by head compression. There is no need for intervention if the variability is within normal range (that is, there is a rapid return to the baseline fetal heart rate) and the fetal heart rate is

- Late decelerations—Occur after the peak of the contraction and mirror the contraction in length and intensity. These are caused by uteroplacental insufficiency.
