Introduction

Background of the study

In the 21st century, there are numerous advancement and invention in technology that change the way we lived and of of those is the social media. Social media revolutionized the way we connect and interact with our peers. It is one of the most powerful tool today that enables us to connect to almost anyone, create a community, and enables us to share our thoughts and opinions freely. In the Philippines, there are around 80 million active social media user out of 110 million of the total population. On the other hand, at the same time social media users grow and their average time spent daily extend, the rate of mental health issues such as depression, anxiety, and stress, are significantly increasing. Therefore this study seeks to answer how social media use affects people mental health, especially students, and to confirm whether or not social media use and mental health issues among students are correlated.

Statement of the Problem

Social media such as Facebook and Twitter has revolutionized the way people connect and interact with each other. However, over the past decades the rate of mental health issues such as clinical despression, anxiety, and suicidal rate has increased at the same time in the growth of social media platforms. Mental health issues can affect a student's energy level, ability to focus, and hinders students'ability to learn . Research indicates that depression is linked to lower general average and test scores compare to the ones who have healthier mental health. It seems that the way people use social media and mental health issues are correlated. The purpose of this study is to confirm whether social media use is related to increased rate in mental health problems in students of General Mariano Alvarez Technical High School. Specifically, it aims to seek the following questions:

1. What is the average time spent using social of student of GMATHS?
2. How many grade 12 HUMSS students use social media such as Facebook and Twitter?
3. What is the most used social media among grade 12 HUMSS student of GMATHS?
4. What are the factors responsible on why students use social media?

Face Recognition for Real Time Application Pradeep Kakkar, 2017-11-27 Master's Thesis from the year 2017 in the subject Engineering Computer Engineering grade 10 course M Tech ECE language English abstract Images containing faces are essential to intelligent vision based human computer interaction and research efforts in face processing include face recognition face tracking pose estimation and expression recognition The rapidly expanding research in face processing is based on the premise that information about a user's identity state and intent can be extracted from images and that computers can then react accordingly e.g. by knowing person's identity person may be authenticated to utilize a particular service or not A first step of any face processing system is registering the locations in images where faces are present The local binary pattern is a simple yet very efficient texture operator which labels the pixels of an image by thresholding the neighborhood of each pixel and considers the result as a binary number The LBP method can be seen as a unifying approach to the traditionally divergent statistical and structural models of texture analysis Perhaps the most important property of the LBP operator in real world applications is its invariance against monotonic gray level changes caused e.g. by illumination variations Another equally important is its computational simplicity which makes it possible to analyze images in challenging real time settings The success of LBP in face description is due to the discriminative power and computational simplicity of the LBP operator and the robustness of LBP to monotonic gray scale changes caused by for example illumination variations The use of histograms as features also makes the LBP approach robust to face misalignment and pose variations For these reasons the LBP methodology has already attained an established position in face analysis research Because finding an efficient spatiotemporal representation for face analysis from videos is challenging most of the existing works limit the scope of the problem by discarding the facial dynamics and only considering the structure Motivated by the psychophysical findings which indicate that facial movements can provide valuable information to face analysis spatiotemporal LBP approaches for face facial expression and gender recognition from videos were described Upper

Missouri River Breaks National Monument, Resource Management Plan ,2008 Mentoring the Relationship Between Cooperating Primary School Teachers and Teacher Trainees During Teaching Practice Mageto Charles,2017-10-24 Master s Thesis from the year 2015 in the subject Didactics Common Didactics Educational Objectives Methods grade A Moi University Main campus course Education curriculum language English abstract Cooperating teachers provide the guidance sought by teacher trainees when they are away from college in the practicing schools and in the absence of the college tutors This study sought to establish the extent to which this mentorship role is played by analyzing the mentoring relationship between cooperating primary school teachers and teacher trainees during teaching practice The objectives of the study were to find out how the cooperating primary school teachers mentored the teacher trainees on schemes of work and lesson plans selection and application of instructional methods lesson presentation and on professional ethics The theoretical frame work used was based on developmental supervision theory by Glickman 2003 The study adopted a descriptive survey research design It targeted cooperating teachers from 26 public primary schools from Kakamega and Vihiga Counties in Western Kenya and the student teacher trainees of Eregi and Kaimosi Teachers College who had undertaken teaching practice in the targeted primary schools Two cooperating teachers who had handled teacher trainees during teaching practice for at least one year were selected from the schools through simple random sampling For teacher trainees focus was on approximately 1000 second year students who had done at least two teaching practice sessions The teacher trainees were stratified into male and female from which 30% were selected from each gender through simple random sampling method Questionnaires and interview schedules were used as data collecting instruments The data collected was analyzed both quantitatively and qualitatively Frequency tables were used to present the quantitative data while qualitatively data was thematically analyzed as per the objectives The analysis revealed that majority of the cooperating teachers rarely did assist teacher trainees in preparation of schemes of work and lesson plans selection and application of instructional methods and lesson presentation On professional ethics it established that majority of the cooperating teachers often guided teacher trainees in the maintenance of discipline in class Consequently the study recommended that cooperating teachers should check the trainees lesson preparation to confirm that the topics allocated to them are effectively taught that provision be made for both to regularly discuss the instructional methods before lesson presentation
