

Investigative task chapter 7- smoking

Researcher John Lee conducted a cross-sectional study of 10000 people. It shows that the number of cigarettes smoked per adult per year and the rate of chronic lung disease (including heart disease) tend to be related. The 10,000 people that were surveyed are shown in the table below. The table is a generalisation of the relationship between cigarette consumption and CVD death rates, and is not meant to represent any specific population. Can you explain the results shown in the table?

The association between cigarette consumption and CVD appears to be a linear relationship. The association between cigarette consumption and lung disease (including heart disease) appears to be a non-linear relationship.
