The Geopolitics of Red Oil Andrew Stephen Campion,2016-01-08 Energy

security has emerged as one of the most important contemporary geopolitical issues. Access to reliable cheap energy has become essential to the functioning of modern economies but the uneven distribution of energy supplies has led to perceptions of significant Western vulnerability. At the same time many in the West have become wary of China's re-emergence as a major power in global politics with its impact on Western foreign policies and potential threat to Western energy security. This book offers fresh insights into the rise of China as a global superpower and the ways in which its rise is perceived to threaten Western energy security engaging specifically with how the idea of the China threat has emerged in popular discourse. The author questions how recent US foreign policy has sought to position China as an antagonist to Western energy interests and explores how this image has become the dominant understanding of China by the West. Rather than treating these issues as given which orthodox approaches tend to do this book analyses the discursive relationship between US identity foreign policy and energy security which leads to a more nuanced and critical understanding of perceptions of China's potential threat to Western energy security. Filling an important gap in the emerging corpus of research on energy security this book will be particularly valuable to students and scholars of Politics International Relations and Chinese Studies. The Philippine Review of Economics, 2014 Women's Entrepreneurship in the Asian Region Jane Menzies, Meena Chavan, Ambika Zutshi, Andrea North-Samardzic, Sultana Lubna Alam, 2025-11-14 This book explores women's entrepreneurship in Asia and analyses the experiences of women entrepreneurs through institutional logics. Covering ten different countries throughout Asia including India Pakistan Bangladesh Malaysia Nepal Brunei Indonesia Saudi Arabia and Turkey this book highlights a range of success stories the supports challenges policy and practical implications to improve women's participation in entrepreneurship. Women in some Asian countries are subjected to cultural norms and beliefs systems which regard women as inferior. This book suggests actions by governments universities organisations and women themselves to help improve the position of women as entrepreneurs in Asia and explains how these actions are in line with the UN's Sustainability Development Goal of gender equality. The book also considers how women may contribute to developing businesses that focus on addressing corporate social responsibility and sustainability. This book is an essential resource for women entrepreneurs academics researching these areas and students studying women's entrepreneurship and entrepreneurship more generally. Women who are keen to start their own businesses and policymakers seeking to support the establishment of women led businesses in the Asian region will also find this useful.
