

13.3 – Cold War Conflicts 496-501

Guiding Questions: What common factor triggered the “hot” wars in Asia during the Cold War, and how did nuclear weapons influence political relations during the Cold War?

1. What were the two superpowers who emerged after WWII?

The two superpowers that emerged after WWII were the United States and the Soviet Union.

Superpower - a state with a dominant position characterized by its extensive ability to exert influence or project power on a global scale.

2. What were Proxy Wars? Why did the United States and the Soviet Union not want to fight each other directly?

A proxy war occurs when two powers in conflict use substitutes instead of fighting each other directly. Armed with nuclear arsenals, neither the U.S. nor the Soviet Union wanted to fight each other directly.

3. What are SEATO and CENTO? Why were they formed by the United States?

The Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO) was made to stem communist aggression in the East. The Central Treaty Organization (CENTO) was meant to prevent Soviet expansion into the Middle East.

4. In addition to wars in Korea and Vietnam, what other areas does the text list as proxy conflict points?

In addition, a Cold War proxy conflict almost turned into a major nuclear war over the small island of Cuba, Congo and Chile.

“hot” war - as opposed to a “cold” war, a hot war is a conflict with actual armed fighting.

5. How was Korea divided along the 38th parallel after 1945? What side was Communist and what side was anti-Communist?

In August of 1945, the Soviet Union and the United States agreed to divide Korea into two zones of the 38th Parallel. The plan was to hold elections after WWII to reunify Korea. As America-Soviet relations grew worse, however, two separate governments emerged in Korea, Communists in North and Anti-Communists in South.

parallel - a line on the globe that marks an area north or south of the equator. For example, the US-Canada border sits mostly on the 49th parallel.

6. When the Communist North Koreans invaded anti-communist South Korea in June, 1950, who supported the North Koreans?

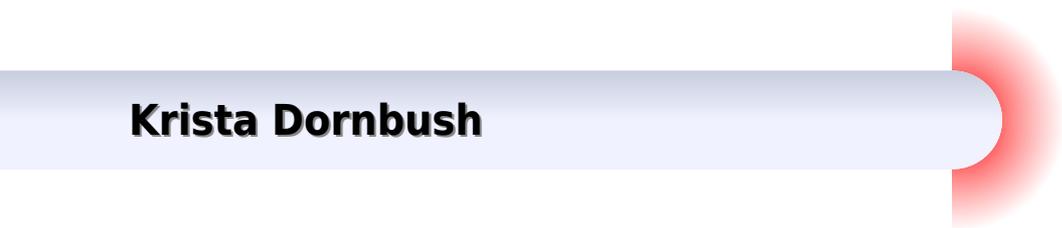

President Harry S Truman of the United States, seeing this as another example of Communist aggression and expansion, gained the approval of the United Nations and sent US troops to repel the invaders.

7. How did President Harry Truman respond to the communist invasion of South Korea? Who gave approval of this response?

President Harry S. Truman committed United States air, ground, and naval forces to the combined United Nations forces assisting the Republic of Korea in its defense.

Borgeryd, 1999-02 How does the state system measure up to today s realities when it comes to managing conflict To what extent are efforts to manage conflict successful and for whom Prevailing structures designed to deal with conflict between collectives sovereign states supported by militaries military industry and the United Nations operate mainly on principles that are hundreds of years old Conditions for conflict and its management have changed radically since this state system was constructed There is a risk that institutional inertia produces growing disparity between real world problems and the institutions that are supposed to manage them Realism and legalism are found to form a double ideological support for the state system The study compares the state system's realist and legalist premises to different cases of post cold war intercollective conflict the 1990-91 Gulf War the 1990-95 break up of Yugoslavia and the 1992 Los Angeles riots These cases present important challenges to the prevailing system's premises mismatches between idea and reality that are clearly connected to failures in conflict management In addition findings suggest that the state system not only fails to deal with important aspects of modern day conflict but that it increasingly produces problems that it cannot manage This suggests that the prevailing state system is not in harmony with crucial conflict related aspects of global impact indicating a serious systemic problem Princeton Review AP World History: Modern Prep, 2023 The Princeton Review, 2022-08-02 Make sure you're studying with the most up to date prep materials Look for the newest edition of this title The Princeton Review AP World History Modern Prep 5th Edition ISBN 9780593517352 on sale August 2023 Publisher's Note Products purchased from third party sellers are not guaranteed by the publisher for quality or authenticity and may not include access to online tests or materials included with the original product

Global Problems, Smart Solutions Bjørn Lomborg, 2013-11-14 Every four years since 2004 the Copenhagen Consensus Center has organized and hosted a high profile thought experiment about how a hypothetical extra 75 billion of development assistance money might best be spent to solve twelve of the major crises facing the world today Collated in this specially commissioned book a group of more than 50 experts make their cases for investment discussing how to combat problems ranging from armed conflicts corruption and trade barriers to natural disasters hunger education and climate change For each case Alternative Perspectives are also included to provide a critique and make other suggestions for investment In addition a panel of senior economists including four Nobel Laureates rank the attractiveness of each policy proposal in terms of its anticipated cost benefit ratio This thought provoking book opens up debate encouraging readers to come up with their own rankings and decide which solutions are smarter than others Military Strategy in an Era of Unipolar Demise

Håkan Edström, Jacob Westberg, 2024-11-15 This book presents a systematic comparison of the military strategies pursued by five great powers eight major middle powers and eight middle powers during the early twenty first century In addition to mapping the strategic priorities of these states the study develops and applies a theoretical framework to explain differences and similarities in their strategic priorities Moreover the work evaluates how the stability of the present international system and the US led liberal international order LIO is affected by the strategies pursued by the US and other leading states The book aims to contribute to previous research in three ways First it intervenes in the debate on the stability of the unipolar system and the US led international order by offering a theoretical framework and an empirical approach for exploring and explaining the strategic priorities and defence strategies of different categories of states Second it aims to fill a void in research on strategy the lack of a comparative and systematic approach to contemporary strategy that facilitates and guides systematic comparisons and analyses of the alignment and military strategies pursued by both major powers and less powerful states Third it provides an empirical contribution to the debate on the stability of the unipolar system and the US led international order by presenting a documentation of the strategic priorities of 21 states based on primary sources consisting of official documents such as national security and defence strategies and defence bills In the conclusion the authors summarise the empirical findings on the system level the regional level and the unit level and present their overarching conclusions for the whole project This book will be of much interest to students of military and strategic studies defence studies foreign policy and international relations in general
