United We Stand? Aaron Belkin, 2012-02-01 It has long been assumed that leaders engage in international conflict to unify their followers what is often called the rally round the flag hypothesis Despite its intuitive appeal however this hypothesis does not always provide a compelling explanation of the relationship between domestic politics and international conflict In United We Stand Aaron Belkin shows that in one important realm civil military relations leaders often prefer divisiveness over cohesion When they feel domestically vulnerable leaders use international conflict in order to create and exacerbate rivalries among their own military forces to lower the risk of a coup and to contribute to the consolidation and stability of the political order Case studies include post Soviet Georgia and Syria

The Negotiation Process and the Resolution of International Conflicts P. Terrence Hopmann, 1996 P Terrence Hopmann predicts that as the post cold war era progresses diplomacy will increasingly replace military action as a means for resolving international disputes in all but the most desperate situations Indeed he foresees an era dominated by many smaller conflicts of interest and identity both within and between states as superseding the age of the global standoff between nuclear superpowers Hopmann contends that the avoidance of violence in these situations and the resolution of underlying conflicts will increasingly give center stage to negotiation the primary activity of diplomacy In this comprehensive appraisal of the negotiation process Hopmann synthesizes the vast body of literature on the subject and constructs a framework for analyzing the many dimensions of international negotiations

The Politics of Coercion Ellwood P. Hinman, 2002 The focus of this thesis is the following research question What does coercion theory suggest about the use of airpower in post Cold War conflict This thesis aims to determine if any of the existing theories of coercion namely punishment risk decapitation and denial can stand alone as an adequately coherent substantive and codified approach Three important attributes of conflict in the post Cold War era 1 limited non protracted war 2 political restraint and 3 the importance of the better state of peace provide a framework for this analysis If these existing constructs fail the test the study will investigate the potential content and applicability of a new theory for post Cold War coercive airpower

Congress, 1963 Untangling the Cold War William A. Gamson, Andre Modigliani, 1971 Democracy and War David Rousseau, 2005-03-24 Introduction domestic institutions political norms and the evolution of international conflict The impact of institutions in international crises International disputes and the evolution of conflict Institutional constraint versus regime type Political norms versus institutional structures Democratization and international conflict The evolution of conflicts institutions and norms Conclusions Todd & Curti's the American Nation Paul S. Boyer, 1995 This book explores seven broad themes central to American history global relations the Constitutional heritage democratic values technology and society cultural diversity geographic diversity and economic development They provide a context for the historical events which will help the student understand the connections between historical events and see how past events are relevant to today's social political and economic concerns Themes in American history Throughout the book the student is asked to think critically about the events and issues that have shaped U S history Helping the student develop critical thinking skills is a key goal of the text Critical thinking and the study of history From Cold War to Long Peace Andreas Wenger, 1996 Human Heritage Miriam Greenblatt, Peter S. Lemmo, 2001 A world history textbook chronicling the rise of Western and Eastern civilizations Includes photos art illustrated charts vocabulary exercises and review questions Social Conflicts Louis Kriesberg, 1982 Quiet Cataclysm John E. Mueller, 1995 Quiet Cataclysm examines how in the last few years the world has undergone the fundamental equivalent of World War III A major empire was dismembered important political boundaries in Europe were reorganized and several nations were politically transformed Yet unlike its predecessors this world war ended with scarcely a shot fired The Making of Saudi Arabia's Foreign Policy Towards Yemen Since 2015, 2021-06-07 Essay from the year 2020 in the subject Politics Region Near East Near Orient grade 13 University of Tübingen language English abstract When dealing with Saudi Arabia's policies towards the Yemeni conflict it is worthwhile taking the domestic level of analysis into consideration Among the many domestic factors which might be relevant to this study the author will focus on three dimensions Saudi Arabia's population the economic dimension which also affects the Kingdom's foreign policy and the regional environment in the Persian Gulf In March 2015 the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia embarked on a military intervention in neighboring Yemen About half a year earlier in September 2014 the Shi'a Houthi rebels self declared Ansar Allah Arabic for Helpers of God had seized control over Yemen's capital Sana'a and forced the incumbent Yemeni president Abdrabbuh Mansur Hadi to flee first to the Southern city of Aden then in March 2015 to Saudi Arabia where he has stayed ever since mostly The primary goal of the Saudi led military coalition including the United Arab Emirates and several Yemeni militias has been to expel the Houthi rebels from the capital Sana'a and to reinstall the internationally recognized government of Abdrabbuh Mansur Hadi without success until the time of writing Which domestic and regional constellations can explain Saudi Arabia's policies towards Yemen since the beginning of the war in March 2015 Instead of looking at these events from the Realist perspective i.e. through the lens of the dominant Realism theory in International Relations a Foreign

Policy Analysis FPA approach shall be undertaken While Realism as a school of thought is primarily concerned with economic and military power and security and may thus have certain advantages in the study of authoritarian states in general and of the Yemen war the FPA approach offers valuable insights into the making of the Kingdom s policies towards Yemen FPA in contrast to the strict Realist focus on the state as a monolithic category sheds light on differences within the state and other factors be they economic or transnational

Journeys Through Conflict Hayward R. Alker, Ted Robert Gurr, Kumar Rupesinghe, 2001-08-27 Journeys Through Conflict is the story of the Conflict Early Warning Systems CEWS project of the International Social Science Research Council It relates the history of the project presents its empirically grounded approach to anticipating violent conflict and shows how the approach may be extended to other social science research arenas Phase analysis of conflict life cycles comparative case studies reconstructed narratives and policy lessons are hallmarks of this pathbreaking work by an international interdisciplinary group of expert conflict analysts Journeys Through Conflict projects alternate pathways to war and peace by a unique coding graphing and computational procedure that takes into account both contested conflict histories and future conflict resolutions

Korean Security in a Changing East Asia Uk Heo, Terence Roehrig, Jungmin Seo, 2007 Since its partition in the 1950s the Korean peninsula has directly or indirectly shaped the broader security relations between regional powerhouses and the recent test of a nuclear weapon by the North Korean regime has heightened tensions across the world This study draws upon contributions from a diverse array of experts who offer their perspectives on the region s complex network of alliances and hostilities The authors discuss the future of the region the potential for military conflict and a new arms race and the ways to maintain peace and stability Since its partition in the 1950s the Korean peninsula has directly or indirectly shaped the broader security relations between regional powerhouses while the recent test of a nuclear weapon by the North Korean regime has heightened tensions across the world Japan feeling increasingly threatened by the North Korean regime and China s extravagant military expenditures has begun questioning Article IX in its Constitution that renounces war and the maintenance of armed forces Its neighbors still haunted by Japanese atrocities during World War II are fearful of a new nuclear arms race in the region The United States for its part has adopted unprecedented hard line policies in response to 9 11 going so far as to condemn North Korea as part of an axis of evil It has strengthened its alliance with Japan and alienated its long time strategic partner South Korea Add to this the economic entanglements of each of these countries both with each other and with the rest of the world and the regional security issues become even more paramount This study makes sense of these complex alliances and frictions and offers an array of perspectives on the future of the region the potential for military conflict and a new arms race and the ways to maintain peace and stability Topics include big power rivalries South Korea s sunshine policy anti Americanism and emerging nationalisms
