

Case Study - Pneumonia

PATIENT NAME: Jane Peterson

DOB: 03/11/1967 50 Years Female

PRINCIPAL DIAGNOSIS: Acute pneumonia

PRESENTING CONDITION AND SYMPTOMS:

Jane is a 50-year-old woman who was feeling feverish with a cough and generally unwell for 2 weeks. She is a smoker, reporting she smokes approximately one pack per day and has done so for the past 28 years. She states she normally has an intermittent cough, sometimes productive of clear sputum.

She saw her general practitioner (GP) as she stated she felt much worse and was feeling quite breathless. Her cough had become productive of a green-coloured sputum.

The GP found that Jane was lethargic but oriented, and auscultated coarse crackles in the right lower lobe (RLL) of her lung. She was coughing up green sputum and her doctor took a specimen for culturing.

Her vital signs were:

- BP – 134/86 mmHg
- PR – 102 beats/minute
- RR – 26 breaths/minute
- T – 38.9°C
- SpO₂ – 92% with no supplemental oxygen

The GP gave Jane a prescription for oral antibiotics. He sent Jane for a chest X-ray as he is suspecting bacterial pneumonia.

Jane has a past history of COPD, hypertension, hypercholesterolaemia, and obesity.

Her current medications are:

Atorvastatin PO

Atenolol PO

Spiriva inhaler

Salbutamol inhaler as required

SOCIAL:

Mrs Peterson lives with her husband and works part time as a cashier at the local RSL club. She has a good social network of friends centring around her involvement in the club. She has two adult children who live interstate.

Investigations by GP

The results of Jane's further investigations confirm the presence of RLL pneumonia.

The chest X-ray shows extensive infiltration of the infection throughout the RLL.

When Jane presents back to the GP, she is noticeably more lethargic and feverish and she states her cough has been getting much worse over the past 3 days and she is not sleeping well. 2

Case Studies in Pediatric Infectious Diseases Frank E. Berkowitz, 2007-08-13 This book features 121 case studies intended to provide an approach to the diagnosis and treatment of pediatric infectious diseases. Brief clinical scenarios are followed by discussions and supplemented with tables and photographs. The author considers infections caused by a wide spectrum of viral, bacterial, fungal, and parasitic infectious agents, as well as those affecting specific anatomic sites. The author addresses both common infections and those presenting a greater challenge in diagnosis. Discussions focus on principles of management, as opposed to details, and place emphasis on determining risk factors and on clinical evaluation, not on performing non-discriminating laboratory tests. The introductory chapter addresses general principles for the diagnosis and management of infectious diseases. The appendix contains extensive tables and lists pertaining to infectious agents and their epidemiology. The book is illustrated with high quality color photographs and radiographs. Its readability provides an engaging way to study pediatric infectious diseases.

This well-written book will be extremely useful for practicing emergency physicians. The clinical cases are interesting and help challenge the reader to improve their skills at evaluating radiographs more thoroughly.
