

ANALYTICAL RESEARCH PAPER EXAMPLE

DIFFERENCE IN COMMUNICATION BETWEEN MAN AND WOMEN

Some scientists defend the thesis that women and men are essentially identical, but different from society, imposing different roles on them. This thesis is not very true, because the differences between the sexes are noticeable from the moment of conception and are present in all parts of the body. Society and culture only emphasize differences, but they are innate.

Separation of men from women begins with a Y-labeled chromosome. One of the genes of this chromosome, Sry, triggers the avalanche of changes in the body. It orders the primitive fetal tissue to "turn into testicles" and then spread the masculinity of the organism through its main product, testosterone. This hormone makes the masculine whole body, including the brain, because it forms the different parts of the brain differently from men rather than women. Because of the difference in brains, men get better in time and space, while women learn to speak faster, learn more words, speak more fluently and better solve verbal puzzles. In men, the left hemisphere of the brain is less developed, responsible for communication and word handling, but it is more powerful on the right, which regulates the orientation, analysis and classification of data. Left - right, north - south, up - down, bigger - fewer terms with which men handle more hands than women. Almost all members of both sexes have some of the two groups of skills, but they differ in the type of skill that prevails. While boys experience space and time as coordinate systems in which it is clear where the world is and what happened before, and later on, women orient themselves with emotional memory by remembering things that left them with a strong impression. The term "female intuition" is not a fiction. The stronger left hemisphere of the brain gives women greater ability to perceive and understand others' emotions. In women, the left and right hemisphere are mutually crosslinked, so women are better able to see a broader perspective and discover the connection between different terms and areas. The greater sociality of women is manifested in childhood in the choice of toys: they prefer the human puppets, while the boys prefer to have fun with mechanical toys, such as cars, weapons or stacking bricks. Modern science believes that weaker male communication is the result of a higher amount of testosterone. Moreover, research has shown that children who have been heavily exposed to testosterone in their mother's womb have a lower incidence of eye contact with their mother. In addition, children who are surrounded by fetuses with a higher amount of testosterone are less likely to learn the language and have a weaker dictionary between the ages of one and a half to two years. The levels of testosterone in the womb during pregnancy were determined by the amniocentesis procedure. The female organism reacts to stress somewhat weaker than the male, which has been proven by the study of thousands of pairs of twin twins. Women experience depression at a lower level of stress, leading to 65 percent of depressed patients. A greater incidence of depression in women is recorded worldwide, but only unipolar depression is concerned, while bipolar (manic) men and women are equally diseased. Sexual difference in vulnerability to depression occurs at age 13. In women, the body under stress produces more stress hormones and longer than in men. For the stimulation of stress hormones in women, the sex hormone progesterone is responsible, which prevents the stress mechanism from being excluded. While women are prone to depression, men become more addicted to drugs or begin to act asocial. Women's care and sensitivity make the sexes more sensitive to more careful drivers, according to research at the University of British Bradford. The scientists there carried out a series of tests on both sexes and found that women had better access to driving so that they were more reasonable, more responsible, and more responsible for safety. Men have expressed themselves in speed and tumult, but these are not the qualities we like to see on the road. Men's testosterone gives a larger, often unrealistic belief that they can run without consequences quickly and violate regulations. Parking? Yes, men are more successful because in this situation the orientation in space and maneuverability are sought. Scientists estimate that for the greater feminine driving responsibility, a sex hormone estrogen, which is thought to favorably affect neuronal activity in the forward lobe of the brain, is intended for adoption and compliance with the rules.
