ULTIMATE GUIDE TO DEALING WITH CYCLONE ALFRED

Cyclone expert Dr David Henderson (below) looks at the simple steps home-owners can take to get ready for the arrival of Cyclone Alfred

I think it's important to start by saying that the best way to prepare for a cyclone is to have a plan. This means knowing what to do if you are at home, at work or in a public place. It also means knowing what to do if you are in a car or on a boat. The first step is to make a plan for your home. This should include things like: securing your roof, boarding up windows, and moving outdoor furniture. It's also important to have a kit of supplies, including food, water, and first aid supplies. Finally, it's important to know where to go if you need to evacuate. This means knowing the location of your local shelter and having a route to get there.

Checklist for home preparation:
 - Secure your roof
 - Board up windows
 - Move outdoor furniture
 - Have a kit of supplies
 - Know where to go if you need to evacuate

Taping windows will not make them stronger or more likely to withstand impacts

Dr David Henderson, a cyclone expert, explains that taping windows is not a recommended practice. He states that while it might seem like a good idea, it can actually be dangerous. He says that if a window is hit by a flying object, the tape can shatter and become a projectile itself. He also notes that taping windows does not make them stronger or more likely to withstand impacts.

Never go outside in the eye of a cyclone and to wait until the weather system has passed entirely
