Introducing the Map

Have you noticed that some maps include a location with the latitude and longitude coordinates? These numbers tell you the exact location of a place on the globe. Can you find the location of Sydney, Australia on the map?

Latitude and longitude lines are used to locate a place on the globe. The latitude lines run north-south and the longitude lines run east-west. The intersection of the latitude and longitude lines is called a coordinate. Can you find the location of Sydney, Australia on the map?
