Covalent Bonding Practice Worksheet

Explanation: Covalent compounds are compounds between nonmetal atoms. The atoms "start" with a number of electrons equal to their group number in the periodic table. Then they share electrons so that all the atoms have filled shells with a "magic number" of electrons. The magic number is 2 for hydrogen and 8 for C, N, O, F, Si, P, S, Cl, Se, Br and I. Remember that compounds made with a metal atom and a nonmetal atom make an ionic compound, not a covalent one, and compounds of metals are also different, these have metallic bonds and do not require a strict ratio.

Instructions: Fill in the blanks in the table. The first row is done for you; study the first row carefully before you start, especially the difference between different boxes (remember there are many ways to draw the same compound). Some rows have hints. If a box has an X you don't have to fill in that box.

Helpful Tips: 1) All atoms start with a number of outer shell electrons = their group number. You cannot change the element's group number. 2) If you have to choose between two shapes, the symmetrical, balanced one is usually best. 3) Try to figure the structures out yourself, don't cheat and use the Internet. ☺

Compound Formula	Full electronic structure	Lewis structure	Dot-cross diagram	Structural formula	3-d formula

General Organic and Biological Chemistry Kenneth W. Raymond, 2013-01-10 General Organic and Biological Chemistry 4th Edition Binder Ready Version has been written for students preparing for careers in health related fields such as nursing dental hygiene nutrition medical technology and occupational therapy It is also suited for students majoring in other fields where it is important to have an understanding of the basics of chemistry An integrated approach is employed in which related general chemistry organic chemistry and biochemistry topics are presented in adjacent chapters This approach helps students see the strong connections that exist between these three branches of chemistry and allows instructors to discuss these interrelationships while the material is still fresh in students minds This text is an unbound binder ready edition

Survival Guide to General Chemistry Patrick E. McMahon, Rosemary McMahon, Bohdan Khomtchouk, 2019-02-13 This work evolved over thirty combined years of teaching general chemistry to a variety of student demographics The focus is not to recap or review the theoretical concepts well described in the available texts Instead the topics and descriptions in this book make available specific detailed step by step methods and procedures for solving the major types of problems in general chemistry Explanations instructional process sequences solved examples and completely solved practice problems are greatly expanded containing significantly more detail than can usually be devoted to in a comprehensive text Many chapters also provide alternative viewpoints as an aid to understanding Key Features The authors have included every major topic in the first semester of general chemistry and most major topics from the second semester Each is written in a specific and detailed step by step process for problem solving whether mathematical or conceptual Each topic has greatly expanded examples and solved practice problems containing significantly more detail than found in comprehensive texts Includes a chapter designed to eliminate confusion concerning acid base reactions which often persists through working with acid base equilibrium Many chapters provide alternative viewpoints as an aid to understanding This book addresses a very real need for a large number of incoming freshman in STEM fields
