

Copy Certification by Notary

If you are copying a public document, including a governmental document, you may need the Notary to certify the copies of original documents or documents to an officer.

The Notary must carefully compare the copy that is being certified to the original, and whenever possible, personally make the copy. The original should not be a public record or a publicly accessible document such as a birth certificate or deed.

It is a good policy for the Notary to keep an additional copy of the original document as an official record of the copy.

Normally, the copies are made by authorized persons directly by certified copy. However, if the Notary is unable to do so, he or she may make a copy of the original document by using a high quality copier that is at least one-half page of any original document.
